

The ashes of a dear grandnephew will be scattered in the coming days. Depression that he kept to himself pressed upon him, squeezed him right out of this world, away from all those he loved and who loved him. He had suffered trauma and loss in his life and they lodged in him as shame and pain.

If only he could have seen and embraced what we saw in him: a bright, brave, and good-hearted human being trying to find his way in this world.
